“ I don't remember anyone who did not like Pat. He would always go out of his way to help others any way he could. What attracted me the most to him during our time together was his great sense of humor (he taught me a slew of "one liners", HA!), his positive attitude, his determination to succeed, and especially his kindness, and unconditional love for his family. When he owned "Pat's Place", just about everyone from his family was involved in one way or another. That just added to the warmth and joy of going there. It was always more than just a local "Bar". Pat was a "Live in the Moment" type of a guy and time was always valuable to him no matter what he was doing. I have a lot more that I could say about Pat, but this is the essence of him that I wanted to share here. When we went our separate ways, I don't know who was more brokenhearted. Me or my parents. Yes, they thought the world of him, too! I have a photo album of memories of a time that belonged to only us. And I will always treasure that time and those memories for as long as I live.
