“ I had the pleasure to get to know Renee through work. When I started at Edcor she had just been promoted to a supervisor and I was her very first team member but over the years she became so much more than just my supervisor. She was my mentor, my gossip buddy, and most importantly my friend. She will truly be missed.

“ Renee was truly a wonderful person, and I am honored that I was able to get to know her quite well through our years of working together at Edcor. I will miss our lively squirrel conversations, and her sneaking my candy bars. The world's light got a little less bright with her passing. Rest easy, Renee.

“ I am honored to have known you in all-too-brief meetings but more deeply through stories shared by your mom. Her pride and joy in your accomplishments and resilience was evident in her words and on her face. I especially loved the stories of your creative endeavors together. I pray that such moments bring comfort to your family, that your memory shall be eternal, and that you are restored to your perfect form in Heaven.

“ Renee we only met twice but those meetings were memorable! Your humor and wit was razor sharp - you had me cracking up sharing “inside stories” of the family. I appreciated your hard pastor questions around the cottage dinner table. I wish we could have had more time in each other presence...
