“ RH Berry was a classy gentlemen who believed in hard work, saving money and personal responsibility. Loved his family and his cherished dogs being more concerned with the dogs food and health than his own. Proud to have been his friend.

“ Oh Richard. After my mom died, you promised me you wouldn't leave this earth without me. I don't know how I am going to get thru without another “Well hello there Sweetheart”. You have been my rock for 35+ years. My first boss...the one I could always count on. I love you and will miss you until we meet again my friend. Thank you for loving me, for sharing so much of your life with me and for telling me I was getting fat when I saw you last !!! You called things like you saw them I guess. We had so much fun at GAB, watching you quitting smoking, exercising in the office and giggling like two teenage girls. You shared so much with me, although sometimes I had to pull it out of you (like your birthdate, your middle name, etc.) and you helped me mature from an 18 year old twerp to a 54 year old twerp! We talked about God so many times and I know we will be together again. I expect you to greet me at Heaven's gate with that unmistakable RH voice calling me sweetheart (you can skip the fat jokes). My life will not be the same without you. Thank you for the unconditional love. You were a good man RH and I'll love you until my last breath. It was funny today as I was truly weeping at my desk and people asked me why. When I said “my best friend” died, they all expected a woman around my age! RIP my friend. Susie Q “Fear not, for I am with you; be not dismayed, for I am your God. I will strengthen you, yes, I will help you, I will uphold you with My righteous right hand” (Isaiah 41:10).
