“ My dear brother, Richard. I will miss sooo much. I was always so proud to have my friends meet my tall, dark and handsome, brother. You were the kind of guy who could always make friends wherever you went. You were my older brother and I was proud to be your little sister. I will forever miss your jokes and sense of humor. Sometimes I would laugh so much, and sometimes I would just roll my eyes. In memory of your sense of humor, I and many of us women, wore only one earring the day we said good-by to you. I love you and miss, bro. Say hello to Ma, Pa, our dear sister Carole and Bud. Someday we will all be together...somewhere up there. Just wished we all had more time on earth to spend together. Love you, Miss you, your little sister, Junie.

“ I wasn't expecting to learn this news today, or any day... Love to all of you. I am so sorry. To the one I called ôDaddy...ö Thank you for raising me as if I were your own. You taught me to stick up for myself. You taught me how to ride a bike. You taught me how to drive. Your sense of humor is legendary. Your memory will forever be with me. Sincerely, Little Amy

“ Grandpa, I remember the first time I met you, and you showed me the little frog named Elmer. Well thats what I think It was, because you always had it under a white rag. I always loved trying to guess what it was. You are the best Grandpa ever. Love Jake

“ Dad, I miss you so much. We may not have been father and daughter all my life, but the time we did have together was so special. I am so lucky to have been your daughter for the time I was. I miss your jokes, smiles and most of all your hugs. Daddy doo, I love you. See you again some day. Love, hugs and kisses, Robin
