Today marks 20 years since I lost the most influential man in my life. I love and miss you, Dad. I long for your laughter and the way you would chuckle when I said something that left you unsure of how to respond. I miss those late nights from my childhood when I would visit and find you sitting close by. I miss my children looking up to you and sitting on your lap. I wish you could see your great-grandchildren. I remember sneaking a soda when I was a kid during my visits. Yet, I find comfort in knowing you are at peace, and one day we will reunite. I love you, my father, and I miss you every single day.

*With love, your son,

“ Please accept my deepest condolences. I knew Bob from the day he joined the Furniture Repair Department at TACOM in the 70's and throughout his career in Security. He was always a dedicated worker and a wonderful person. He'll be missed.
