“ I will always remember Aunt Betty's laughter. She took my mother (her sister) to Hawaii on a trip that my mother would have never experienced had it not been for Betty's generosity. They shared and made many memories that my mother often recalled before her passing two years ago.

Although Betty is no longer here on earth, I'm sure that she and my mother are laughing and rejoicing together again.

I sure agree!! She had a contagious laugh and always seemed not to be worried about anything!!! She loved her children and grandchildren and enjoyed telling anyone that would listen about them. Though her husband (our uncle by marriage) passed away many years before her, she was in love with him until she passed away Saturday. I imagine they are enjoying being together again!!!

Aunt Betty was visiting us in California when the Northridge earthquake hit. She swore she would never make fun of our earthquakes again. With no power, she whipped up breakfast with biscuits and gravy in my camper!. What a fun southern woman she was. Love you Aunt Betty! I know you are laughing in Heaven!
