“ I met Sharron years ago and she was just the best person, always smiling and cheerful and helpful. She was so happy when she was carrying Lucy the light of her life and would send pictures often. She will be missed. Blessings to the family and Lucy especially.

“ I had the privilege of working with Sharon at First American. She was such a warm person with a great sense of humor. You could always count on Sharon for a friendly bet when the Tigers played the Twins or the Lions played the Vikings. Always a gracious winner and never a sore loser. My heart breaks for her family.

“ When I think of Sharon, I think about the Hudson street house (was born across the street), my Aunt Joan, the white piano in the living room, and of course, Duke . I remember the foil Bowie poster in Dave and Paul's room and how my older cousins were my introduction to music. I borrowed cassette tapes from Sharon that were far beyond my years (I always looked at the cover of Roxy Music's "Country Life" over and over). Sharron was a Detroiter before it was cool and the glue that held things together for everyone.

Sharron and her friend came to my house in California and set my folks' mind at ease about the "transitional" neighborhood we lived in. We went all over San Francisco that day.

My Dad (Uncle Jerry) thought the world of Sharron, he told me that yesterday as only he would (in a few words).

Sharron, I'm glad you got to meet Lara and August and get to know them. August is in love with Pugs right now - we told her this morning that you did Pug rescue and her response was, "see? I want a Pug!" We will miss you cuz.

Love, Randy, Lara & August

“ Will always cherish the fond memories and fun times we had growing up at Grandpa and Grandma Faupel's house. Jumping on the beds, laughing till our stomachs hurt and playing hide-n-seek outside in the dark. Oh, and don't forget those crazy family reunions singing all those silly Irish songs. It's hard to believe you are gone Sharron. Although we'll miss you, we are thankful you are no longer suffering!! So grateful you are finally at peace!!
