“ My grandparents, Cliff and Marie Dawson were dear friends of Sigurd and Thelma. Sigurd and Thelma were often at Grandma and Grandpa's house for Sunday dinner, and it always seemed so much more special when they were there. I remember listening to Grandpa and Sigurd talk about the ships they had worked on, and I loved to hear Sigurd's beautiful Norwegian accent. I went with my family last fall to visit them, and although he was in a wheelchair and unable to see well, he told us he had so much to be thankful for. He and Thelma were wonderful people and I am so grateful that I had the pleasure of knowing both of them.
