“ Stephanie had a special, soft and warm heart. I loved getting to know her in our small group. I knew I could count on a warm hug and contagious smile each Sunday morning. She is without pain now and in such an awesome place. I will miss her and her friendship and will look for and to seeing her again.

“ We have known Stephanie for many years through our Bible study together. While often quiet, she would lend her wisdom from time to time. She will be sorely missed and how ironic that we just finished our study of Heaven and what it will be like. She beat us all and has the answers. We will look forward to meeting her again and having many more great discussions.

“ Stephanie was my first and only true work wife. The way she treated me and those around was always unconditional. The way she cared for those around her is something I will never forget. She was definitely one of a kind and I know the world has truly lost someone special, but heaven has gained an Angel. You will be forever missed Stephanie and always in my heart. My condolences to the family you all are in my prayers.

“ Stephanie was an interesting woman. I always enjoyed her stories about when she was a child growing up traveling around and living in different states. Then we would share stories about our camping. She loved going camping in her RV. But her favorite subject was her grandchildren. She missed not being able to see them on a regular basis. She enjoyed her Bible studies with her church group. Stef was not one for taking short cuts, she took the slow and steady route. When she left the company she was so eager to get back to Michigan to be with her family. It saddens me that she was not able to live that dream, but I know for sure that she is living the ultimate life now. May God bless and keep her family.

“ Stephanie was one of the nicest people I've ever had the pleasure of knowing. I worked with her at Kmart in MI and then here in Dallas with Sears. We had the biggest laugh when years ago her niece married my cousin and she never put the last names together until one day we were talking at work. She is going to be missed by many we love you RIP my friend.
