“ *The past 2 days have been bad. I try to keep it all in but sometimes I cant. I feel like I'm writing to you mom so you can read this. I dont know how to not feel lost or empty. I miss being with you everyday whether it was us taking naps or going out to eat. You loved your little ventures out to go eat. It's so hard for me to even believe your gone. You were doing so good in physical therapy and were coming home soon to us. Back to normal routine. But no! This virus took you away from us. You are my momma, my best friend, my whole heart . I dont like feeling the way I do, I know my boys need their momma but I never thought this would be so hard. Now when I hear about the virus I get so angry and start thinking that is what took you away from me. I always adored what a strong woman you were and you always busted your butt working when I was younger. You will forever be my momma ❤️❤️❤️
Love you & miss you so much mom!!

“ The first time I met her it was at this burger place with Bryan and Keith. The boys decided to do this “burger challenge” and eat a burger that weighed over a pound and was called “The Beast” for a free tee shirt. 😂

When the burgers came out (that were bigger than our heads!) I'll never forget the look Tami and I both gave each other at the same time... Both of our eyes grew huge and our mouths dropped. We instantly busted out laughing!!! Needless to say they did eat the whole thing and got the free tee shirt.

That was such a fun day. She will be missed tremendously. May she Rest In Peace and watch over us all ❤️

“ I want to let the family know that I will be honoring Tami's memory by continuing on with our shenanigans. Her smile would light up a room and her eyes would twinkle, whenever she wanted to be mischievous and I am grateful for the time that we were able to spend together. She will be greatly missed by her friends and family and I send my prayers for strength and love for this difficult time that everyone has to endure. She will never be forgotten. 💕

“ You know she will never truly be gone. She lives on in your heart and memories. When the sun warms you it's her love shining down upon you. When the wind brushes your cheeks and blown your hair it's her laughter touching you. When the rains fall on you it's her tears because she misses you and her happiness for you. So for these reasons no one is every really gone,
