“ At this point, well-intentioned, yet awkward words of solace won't assuage the grief of losing Tommy. What a special guy he was. The Lord must have retired the mold from which Tom was cast. He was truly one of a kind. Tom's indomitable spirit was infectious, his laugh contagious, and his joy freely shared by those blessed to have crossed paths with him. Having lost two brothers, all I can do is empathize with you during this time of paralyzing grief. Know this Marge, Carol, John, Colton, family members and loved ones...even when it doesn't seem like it, the Lord is near to the brokenhearted and saves the crushed in spirit. Father is all about healing and binding up wounds. During that process, cling hard to the memories of Tommy's 22 years on this earth. Celebrate his life often. He's very much alive.
