“ Dear Maureen, I was saddened to hear of Tyler's death. What a great loss. Tyler had so much life to live. He was a very intelligent, handsome young man with a wonderful personality. Yet,he was also so troubled. May he find peace in the arms of God. Know I hold you i my thoughts and prayers. With deepest Sympathy, Joann

“Maureen, There are no words for you to hear that will help your pain. I wish I could tell you differently, but my son died 4/28/09. He was 25, survived Iraq, going to nursing school, but poor choices led to his death. People that say "I understand" or "I can imagine" cannot. A mother's pain for losing a child has no words. When time passes, please call me, or find me on facebook. We share a loss together, that only we know. God Bless Tyler, and give you and your family strength. I have added Tyler, and your family to my prayer list. I have asked God to have both these boys, cross paths, and connect. God helps me get through a day at a time. Just ask. All my love, Judy

“Maureen, I am so sad to hear of your son's passing. I can only imagine your feelings and how much you'll miss him. Burying a child is certainly not the way things were meant to be. As some small bit of consolation, he's certainly now in a better place and now enjoying life with God. You and your family are in my thoughts and prayers. Deepest sympathy, Dennis Antoniotti

“ *Dear Mr. and Mrs. Boury and Julia, I just heard, so sorry for your loss. I just loved Tyler! From the moment I heard him sing One Voice at the talent show to when I taught him, I just loved that boy! “ Dear Maureen, Brad and Julia, I am so very sorry to hear of your loss of your son and brother. I can remember when Maureen was pregnant with Tyler all those years ago. May all those special moments you shared as a family over the years comfort you and keep you going during this most difficult and painful time. May Tyler smile down upon you and know he is now home. All my heartfelt sympathies to you. I will keep you in my prayers that you find peace. Tyler certainly made an impact to those who knew and loved him and will be so dearly missed. “ Tyler was in my first grade class at Star of the Sea. He was a sweet and hard working little boy. He and Julia used to run around in my classroom many afternoons after school; they were always laughing and had so much fun. I still remember the tshirt he made for me with his handprints and a drawing of his face on it. To Tyler's family - I'm so sorry for your loss - Tyler and his family will be in my prayers, and may God comfort you always.

“ Tyler, we met at star of the sea when we were very young. You were always cracking jokes, and getting into mischief. You were so vibrant in a sea of uniforms. We had our moments where we weren't so found of each other but we had great conversations nonetheless. God Bless you! I hope that you find peace and happiness with the lord in heaven.

“ Mo As all of the comments posted I too am stunned. I can still see you pregnant with your son in the office working without a care in the world and wondering to myself just how in the world can this lady keep up, but you did. You were an amazing parent to Tyler and Julia and I remember the many conversations that you And I shared regarding parenthood dailey since we sat so close to each other. I pray that peace comes to you and Julia as this is a walk that no parent should ever have to make but God made you strong. “ Tyler, This is still very weird to me that you're gone... I know we didn't always get along all the time but I still cared about you a lot. You mean a lot to sooo many people and touched so many lives. You could always have people laughing, even when they didn't want to. I'm so happy that I got to meet you lat summer. We hung out pretty much everyday and you used to tell me about your life. There was one day when I was stuck outside in the rain and you let me come in your house and I watched you play video games for hours. I'll always remember those times. You were such a caring person and were always helping out your dad. You are always in my heart

“ Ty- My most vivid memory of you comes from Julia's birthday party in grade school...it was flower themed and the cake was one of those mud pie things in a flower pot. Your mom had hid a plastic bumble bee in it and the child who found it got a prize. Naturally someone ate is or something because we couldn't find it anywhere. And there you were across the table from me searching through your hair, in your clothes; anywhere that bee could have gotten. This memory points out two things about the Tyler I knew, first of all you had the whole group of us laughing hysterically and second as silly as it was, you seemed sincerely concerned. This is the Tyler that people remembered today; the kind and goofy boy that was loved so very much. I am so glad that you can be free from whatever was haunting and imprisoning you. Rest in peace.

“ To Dear Maureen, Julie & Brad. It breaks our heart to hear such news. We read all the comments above with tears in our eyes. We never knew Tyler wrote songs and sang. We remember many happy memories at Tyler's house. Water fights, swimming races, hide and seek. We had more sleepovers than we can count. Maureen driving over late at night to bring Tyler's pillow and snacks. Maureen, you worked so hard to give Tyler everything he needed. We are deeply saddened by your loss. We will miss his sense of humour and his BIG smile. We loved bumping into Tyler after he moved away, I always received a smile and a hug. I will truly miss that. Maureen, Julie, & Brad, you now have your own Angel watching over you. God bless you all in this time of Sorrow. All our Love. Susan, Jade & Ross. xoxoxox

“ Ty, Our bond is irreplaceable. There is nobody that will be able to fill the void in my heart now that you're gone. I regret not being able to look in your eyes and say goodbye. When I remember, I see your smile and hear your laugh... you were always laughing. We overcame so many battles together, and grew up side by side. I'm going to miss growing with you... every day. Who's going to intimidate my boyfriends now? Lol. Can you scare them off from up there? The day you passed was a morning for me in China... and I was on a bus driving through the most beautiful, pure place I've ever been. I think back to that moment and hope you escaped your reality and were there with me. And still, you're only a dream away. Rest in peace baby brother, you'll always be my angel.

“ We can't know why the lily has so brief a time to bloom in the warmth of sunlight's kiss upon its face. Before it folds its fragrance in and bids the world good-night to rest its beauty in a gentler place. But we can know that nothing that is loved is ever lost, and no one who has ever touched a heart can really pass away, because some beauty lingers on in each memory of which they've been a part. Ellen Brenneman I love this poem and it seems so fitting for Tyler. I pray it brings God's promise of peace that passes all understanding to all of us who loved and cared so much for Tyler.

“ I have so many good memories of Tyler. When Julia and Tyler were little they liked playing "chase me" around the basement. When they were in school Grandpa and I would pick them up once a week after school and they always looked forward to what treat we brought for the ride home to our house. Maureen would come after work and we would all have dinner together and then play cards. As Tyler was growing up I would always say a prayer for him at night. I am so sad he is gone and will miss him. Tyler will always be in my thoughts and prayers.

I loved you so much and can't come to grips with the fact that you are here no longer. You will always be in my heart forever and ever. What hurts the most is that I talked to you that day...about coming to see you. I was supposed to come see you this week, Ty, and then this happened. I really can't believe it. I love you more than anything in the world and I promise I am going to fix my life for you. I swear I will do good in life and it's all for you, baby. Rest in Peace, always. You are with God now. “ I love to tell the story of how my sweet baby boy Tyler Jay came into this world with God's warm sunny rays shining down on him. It was a stormy day in August and it had been raining for hours. I had to have a c-section and oddly enough our operating room at Bon Secour Hospital in Grosse Pointe had a big window. The second they cut me open the rain stopped and the sun came out, everyone in the room including the doctors, nurses, Brad and I stopped in disbelief. We knew and it was said that God had a special plan for this boy and he would touch the world and all that knew him. As soon as they brought Tyler safely out the rains and storms continued. It was magical. God was with him from the minute he came into our lives and is walking with him now in the warm sunny skies of heaven. I will miss you every minute of every day my sweet Sunny Boy.
