I heard about this on the news and was sickened. What a terrible loss of one young boy! I just wish to say that I'm so very very sorry for your loss. He sounds like such a good young man. May God be with you all at this time.

“ The Lee/Coyne Family would like to give condolences to the Wingate Family. My Son, Spencer Lee, a 2016 Berkley graduate made me aware of your loss. It's obvious your son's character made an impact on even those who came years after him at Berkley. May the Lord watch over you at this time of healing. God Bless you.

Random acts of kindness.
Donating some of his hair for cancer patients wigs I think his Mother said.
I didn't even know him, but he has touched my heart.
Love you Tyler.
You're smiling that beautiful smile up in heaven now.

“ I do not know Tyler personally, but I care for people in the healthcare community. I am a nurse. For years, patients have shared their stories telling me that their loved ones come to visit them in their dreams. I believe this to be true because my grandma visits me in my dreams. Your family is in my prayers and Tyler will always be in your dreams. God bless you.

“ In times like these, we often don't know what to say. While I never knew Tyler or any of his family members, the tribute shared by his brother lets us know that Tyler's living was not in vain. During this difficult time of transition, I sincerely pray that God will comfort and keep all of you through the many loving and wonderful memories you have of Tyler. Just look at his smile his profile picture. It is absolutely contagious. My heart, thoughts and prayers are with each and everyone of you; and through the tears, please remember Tyler's smile. While he is absent from the body, he can never be absent from our hearts. He is forever embedded in our lives every day because of his integrity and dignity to do the honorable thing. And while you all may be preparing to say goodbye, in all essence, it's just good night because morning time is coming where we will meet and celebrate with Tyler again. May God bless and strengthen all of you!

“ I did not know him at all, I have alot of good friends that knew him, when I first saw this on the news it broke my heart. You don`t have too many young people like Tyler that would move back into the city because they have love for Detroit and for him to live in that area it showed he had a big heart. He did`nt deserve this at all nobody deserve it and all for a fender bender, I watched some of the video and it was`nt like he was trying to run off, he did the right thing and I thank the media for not showing the whole video and respecting the family. Now I pray everyday that they hurry up and catch that monster, get him off the streets, I say a prayer for Tyler family everyday I know it`s a hard pill to swallow and will take alot of time to heal, I lost my sister in law on 5/14/2019 when 3 guys was racing down 7 Mile and Coyle and my family is still dealing with her loss so li feel this family, Lord please wrap your hands around this family, help them heal please lord they need you now.

Jason, Sharlee, and Family. I cry every time I hear the story. So senseless, so sorry for your loss. Tyler appeared to be a man and do the right thing. It could've happened to anyone. I wish someone had stepped in and helped him. Such a tragedy. May God Bless and give you strength to endure. Brenda Hawkins

I didn't know Tyler nor do I know any of the family but I understand the grief associated with the loss of a sibling. I have been thinking about this young man since he was senselessly take from apparently so many who loved him. I can only hope the good Lord can provide your family with what we mere mortals cannot, a sense of comfort and peace in your hearts during this arduous time... Mister L.

it saddens me terribly what happened to this great guy. I went to St Cecilia High about one mile from the crime scene, in the day you could go anywhere in detroit without fear, This is what Tyler wanted for Detroit. God took this angel to heaven because of his outlook was that of a saint. If we all treasure what he left us someday we'll join him!!

He always was such a happy, sweet boy with a cheeky grin, especially when he forgot to do his homework. He was one of those unforgettable students that stick with you, even 15 years later. I am heartbroken over this senseless tragedy. I feel so much pain for his family and friends.*
