“ Ursula Ryskamp was just "Aunt Urse" to me for over 50 years. She was a special lady and it was a joy to be around her. I'm happy she had such a long and happy life.

“ We had such a wonderful visit with Ursula when she came to visit us in Texas a few months ago. We enjoyed looking over pictures of when she and Sid came to visit us nearly 30 years ago, when we were in graduate school. We had a great time together then. She also was here when we celebrated our 25th wedding anniversary, and she insisted on taking us and my Mom & Dad to the best restaurant we knew of in Austin to celebrate. On the night before she left to go back to Michigan a few months ago, we were joking around about flashy jewelry and we offered her a large "diamond" engagement-looking ring to take back to Michigan and say she got it from her Texas boyfriend that would be Moh, my husband!. She laughed and said she liked the idea, and accepted the ring. I hope she had fun with it. We'll miss her, but we know that she lived a full life and left behind loads of happy memories. Her other Texas friends whom she met when she was here last want you to know that they thoroughly enjoyed meeting her and visiting with her, and that she was so positive and such an inspiration. We say "ditto."
