“ Dear Cook Family--- I met Valarah, a.k.a. Boots over 30 years ago. She quickly became more than a neighbor, Boots became extended family. She was always there with a smile, and a good word. Boots had an ease and grace about her. A very caring woman to all, and well liked in the neighborhood. We would often just sit on the porch and watch the world go by, or just chat over the fence. Boots had imparted much about caring for a garden and flower bed, and provided many plantlets to help transform our home. I still have those plants with me today at the home we live in now. They are a tribute to her as I pass them on to others, with the story of how I received them and began my journey of gardening. When our family began to grow, she became Grandma Boots to our girls Lauren and Whitney. Although we didn't get to see each other much after we had moved she still remained always in my heart and close in thought. Until we meet again. With much Love and Sorrow, Bud and Marie Dissmore
