“ My Brother

I was asked to say a few words about my brother at his memorial service

Butch always said he was “Poor Born” since he was born at home and not in a hospital like the rest of us.

When I came around he was already 12 and he was my buddy. I always wanted to hang with him which I’m sure he did not always appreciate when he was in high school and beyond.

I remember cruising Woodward Ave and going to the Totem Pole Drive-in with him and his friend Gary. I miss that place and the Big Chef Burgers. He would also take me to Cass Lake where he attempted to teach me to swim.

Butch played the Sousaphone in Middle School and when I reached Middle School I also played the Sousaphone just like him.

As time went on we raised our families but the adventures continued. We both got our HAM Radio Licenses and would make annual trips with other HAM friends to the Dayton Hamvention. We would camp in my pop-up at the Tall Timbers KOA and got to know the owner. She would know us as the Culton boys. All the Times we camped at the KOA there was front row of campers reserved for the large motor homes and 5th wheels . Butch always said we would know we made it to the top if we ever camped there. One year I brought my first 5th wheel and did not tell him. When I checked into the KOA the owner saw my new 5th wheel and put us in the first row. Later that day Butch arrived and when he check in at the office to where we were the owner pointed to out campsite and told my brother that we made it. He was so happy telling everyone about our new camper and the prime location we were camping on.

I got my pilots license and Butch was the first person to take a ride. The ink was not even dry on my license and he became my co-pilot. Butch loved flying with me but done asked him to navigate (He would get lost) or make sure the door was closed and latched (He left a seat belt outside the plane once then decided to open the door while I was climbing from takeoff). No trip was too short or too long for him. He even paid for the fuel.

Butch got into the house rental business (Culton & Associates) I was the associate he said. My job was to rehab old houses he got and then he would rent them out. If HGTV was around then they could have had a show about us. It would have been a How Not to Do Show. He also got into the communications business selling and installing used 2 way radios. We sure had many interesting encounters and stories from those businesses.

After taking his family on vacation to Mexico he took me to Acapulco where he purchased a place. Families and friends had lots of adventures at Mr. Wally's place in Acapulco.

Remember the Blues Brothers? Yep that was Butch (Jake) and me (Elwood) at Halloween parties and other functions.

Butch was an investigator with the Secretary of State and I was an office in the State Police. We worked for difference departments but once in a while we got to work together on a case. There was one judge that liked to see the Culton Brothers in her court and the cases we presented.

As time went by I made several moves around the state due to assignments but Butch and I kept in-touch always letting each other know what we were up to.

Growing up with Butch was always an adventure, which everyone that knew him was lucky to take part in. He was my big brother but also my best friend.

Butch may have been "Poor Born" but his life was rich with friends, family and adventures.
