“Uncle Walter was a great man that will be greatly missed. I have many fond memories of times spent with Walter. It breaks my heart to not be there to pay my last respects. I know Walter understood and knew how much I loved him.

“*When you forgive someone that doesn't mean forget what they did to you that just means you are forgiving them and wiping there slate clean. There's always good with the bad you have to love your life the way it is. Remember those who love you forgive those who hurt you and never regret anything that made you smile. I haven't done that yet and I must do this. I have to forgive you because holding this grudge is hurting me and sometimes you have to hurt to understand how one feels *So daddy you are forgiven I still love you and never stopped even though we didn't see eachother I will always be your baby girl

“ To my Uncle Walt, thanks for all the laughs and love. Growing up not knowing my dad, you and your brothers made up my dad, 2 of 6 was you and all the lessons you've taught me I will hold even dearer to my heart. I love you, but I know that several angels met you with a tear and a smile at the gates of heaven. I miss you but I celebrate you from this day on!
